ALL PASSENGERS ON BOARD SAVED

WITH 350 PASSENGERS AND 300 CREW, HESEPERIAN ATTACKED WITHOUT WARNING

ALL PASSENGERS ON BOARD SAVED Alan Line Officials in Statement

Ship, Outward-bound for Montreal, Was Attacked Just at Dark on Saturday Evening at 150 Miles West of Queenstown—Torpedo Struck Hesperian in Forward Engine Room and She Immediately Began to Sink—Perfect Discipline Prevailed.

By Bulletin Leased Wire.
QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 5.—Rescue boats with passengers and members of the crew of the Allan Line steamer Hesperian arrived here today and told of the torpedoing of the liner Saturday evening by a German submarine off the south coast of Ireland.

The passengers were unanimous in declaring the Hesperian was attacked in the gathering night without warning. The only person aboard the steamer who actually saw the underwater boat was a man on watch, who got a glimpse of it in the distance and reported the fact to Captain Main.

The passengers declare that the steamer was down by the head when they last saw her, but that she was making her way slowly to Queenstown under her own steam.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The Allan Line steamer Hesperian, with 350 passengers and a crew of 300 aboard, bound from Liverpool for Queenstown, was attacked without warning by a German submarine off the Irish coast just as darkness was falling Saturday evening. Although the torpedo found its mark, the vessel remained afloat, and, according to a statement issued by the company tonight, every soul aboard was saved.

The Allan Line officials, however, decided not to give out a list of the passengers.

No submarine was seen, and probably it was too dark to observe the work of a torpedo, but all the passengers and members of the crew who arrived at Queenstown on the rescue steamers today agree that the attack was made by a German under boat, basing their opinion on the force of the shock and the great volume of water thrown into the air. This dropped back on the deck drenching the passengers who were taking an after dinner promenade, feeling quite safe in the belief that they had passed the submarine danger zone.

The force of the explosion was tremendous and of the passengers landed at Queenstown, many of them scantily clad, about twenty were injured. There were no American passengers aboard, so far as the American consul could learn tonight, but two members of the crew were American citizens, and they were both saved.

About thirty Canadian soldiers, who were wounded in battle in Flanders were going home to recuperate. Most of the other passengers were Canadians, returning from a visit to England, or English people on their way to Canada to settle.

The torpedo struck the Hesperian in the forward engine room and the ship immediately began to settle by the head. Captain Main ordered the passengers and crew into the boats, but with his officers remained on the bridge, although at that time he must have felt sure that his ship would go down.

The discipline was perfect, but one of the boats, the falls of which became jammed, capsized, and those in the boat were thrown into the water. In the darkness confusion naturally prevailed, but all were picked up, and, with other passengers and the crew, were transferred to the rescue steamers which arrived in answer to wireless calls for assistance.

The Hesperian was about one hundred and fifty miles to the westward of Queenstown when struck.

HUGE VOLUME OF WATER THROWN ALMOST AS HIGH AS THE MASTS

QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 5.—Ronald Whitway, of London, who was a passenger on the Hesperian, said:

"We were sitting on the upper deck, the weather being delightful, when about 8 o'clock Saturday evening we felt a violent jolt, and then a tremendous volume of water rose almost as high as the masts. The ship was thrown into the air and then she was down by the head."

MEMBERS OF CREW; BOTH SAVED

QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 5, 1915.—The Allan Line steamer Hesperian, which was returning home to Liverpool, was torpedoed Saturday evening by a German submarine off the south coast of Ireland. Two Americans were aboard, both of whom were members of the crew, and both were saved.

DID HESPERIAN CARRY 4.7 RIFLE? OFFICIALS SAY "NO"

By Bulletin Leased Wire.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—A cablegram from Queenstown to the American consul at London, announcing the torpedoing of the liner, carried, mounted and visible on her stern, a 4.7 inch rifle.

MONTREAL, Sept. 5.—Allan Line officials in Montreal do not credit the statement attributed to American Consul Pratt at Queenstown, in a dispatch to Washington, that the Hesperian carried a 4.7 inch gun.

"So far as we know," said one of the Allan line officials tonight, "the Hesperian did not carry a gun."

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1915.

The city authorities have shown commendable promptness in their hunt down a gang of thieves and make an end of it. This and other municipal generally, government officials, and individuals will do likewise the menace will be averted. Otherwise Edmonton's reputation for lawlessness is not appreciable.

Readers will have been perhaps surprised to notice that a couple of assistant kindergarten teachers have been taken on by the school board at salaries of $140 and $150 per month, or $360 per year. These are hard times, and the city school system is one of the places where the economy is absolutely necessary, but it could be hoped that the saving could be effected somewhere else. It is costing the taxpayers something like four thousand dollars per year to maintain our public schools. It is less than that under normal conditions. There must be some items in the list accounting for the other three thousand dollars which have been cut off by the school board. The young lady who has to do the work and stand the worry. A $300 salary in a $200,000 school building does not harmonize.

The submarine has sunk Von Tirpitz it appears. That may not be the significance of the dropping of the sub, but it is a fact. Berlin had found him and his methods more embarrassing than helpful, and had determined to sink him up as a sacrifice in the war. It is a fact that its crimes would be forgotten and Germany listed once more in the world's opinion as a civilized belligerent. If that could be done there are a good many more leaders to go for despatch. Von Tirpitz may have been responsible for the particularly responsible for using the German navy as an instrument of murder but he had nothing to do with the country's position as a member of the German army in Belgium. If he suffers while the military leaders escape it will be a conclusive proof that he was not punished for having turned the German navy into the ways of piracy but because his doing so made trouble for the country, not bringing compensating military advantage, while the equally abhorrent methods of the navy are paid dividends in the subjugation of Belgium.

Perhaps if Ontario papers had talked as strongly about the necessity of enlistment a few months ago as they are now talking about the press and conscription, the conscription would not seem to some of them the only means of producing the proportion of men that the province should provide. Conscription has certainly not been shown to be necessary in Western Canada, where the western people are not particularly different in mental make-up from the people in Eastern Canada. They are mainly not as much given to talking about their conscription for the Empire and its interests.

The difference in the resulting results must therefore be put down as due to a difference in the way the situation was presented to the people of the two halves of the Dominion. And in this presentation the newspapers had naturally a larger part to play than any other factor. Western newspapers, with scarcely an exception, and absolutely without regard to party, have taken the war as a desperately serious business from the start, and have done what the circumstances permitted to put the need and opportunity before the eyes of their readers. Perhaps that is why, while Ontario papers are discussing the necessity of conscription, Western papers are asking when the government is going to allow more men a chance to enlist.

Von Tirpitz seems to agree with Sir Percy Scott that the first business of a dreadnought is to keep itself from getting sunk.

Once again the call of King and country is to the men of Northern Alberta. Five hundred men are being recruited in Edmonton to replace drafts from the 63rd and 66th of the front.

The Germans are walking into Russia just as though they had been invited, in every direction save that of Petrograd. The portion of the province lying south of the Canadian border is the portion of the province lying south of the Canadian border.

Sir William MacKenzie says he hopes to girdle the world with C. N. R. tracks and steamship lines. And it is by no means impossible that he will do it, provided the country's credit holds out and the general election can be held off long enough.

Labour day, 1915, will be celebrated under abnormal conditions. Conditions are so abnormal, in fact, and have been, that it will not be celebrated at all. The man who has work will be disposed to spend the day earning the wages that have been more plentiful in the past year.

Yet if ever there was a time when the importance of the service rendered in Canada this is it. Work is now the one hope of this country. The days of easy money, of the days when they will return no one knows. The speculative redistribution of wealth has given birth to the necessity of creating wealth. We must earn our living by the sweat of our brows, in a more literal sense than for years.

So with the world. The waste and ruin of war are destroying wealth at a rate unequalled in history. It can only be replaced by one agency—human industry. The reconstruction of the devastated lands of Europe, the payment of the appalling costs of their destruction can be accomplished only by work. The property of the residents of some other planet. The world is like a city, and the city is like a city, which can only be rebuilt by the city of its citizens without the assistance even of "outside capital."

Whatever other changes the war may make about in Canada, it has re-established the necessity and the dignity of labor in the public mind. We may as well accept the fact that for years the ambition of a majority of Canadians had been to get away from work and to live in idleness. The war has re-established the necessity and the dignity of labor in the public mind. We may as well accept the fact that for years the ambition of a majority of Canadians had been to get away from work and to live in idleness.

Labor Day Sport Program Chiefly Centred Out of Town

Borden Bearcats Excursion Carried 126 Tourists to Calgary for Baseball Games and Athletic Sports—Trades and Labor Council Excursion to St. Albert This Morning at 10:30 Will Be Well Patronized—Soccer Game at Diamond Park This a.m. and a Baseball Game This Afternoon.

While Mr. and Mrs. Edmondson and the majority of the family will spend Labor Day out of town, the stay-at-homes will not be entirely overlooked, as there is a soccer game at Diamond Park in the morning, while an exciting inter-collegiate basketball game will be staged in the evening. The football game, which starts at 10:30 a.m. sharp, brings together Edmonton's two stellar teams, the Bears and the Redwings. The Bears, winners in the senior division, and the Redwings, winners in the junior division, are both teams well at full strength, and a splendid game is anticipated. The afternoon basketball game at Diamond Park, between Edmonton A. C. and Fairview, both contenders for the champion ship, and a soccer for either team will eliminate them from the race. The soccer game starts at 3 p.m.

Bearcats at Calgary. The Borden Club excursion to Calgary, which pulled out of the C.P.R. depot at 11:15 Saturday night, was a big success, as nearly 125 tourists accompanied the Borden Club to the south. Nearly everybody on board had friends waiting at the Calgary station, and the majority of the Edmontonians spent the night with their friends. The excursion was led by Manager Drayton, in anticipation of the two and three days with the Hesters. To win the provincial championship, the Hesters for the locals to twice trim the Hesters. The Hesters, who are the champions of the province, and such a task, though a tough one, is not impossible. The Hesters, who are the champions of the province, and such a task, though a tough one, is not impossible. The Hesters, who are the champions of the province, and such a task, though a tough one, is not impossible.

The Athletic Meet. The basketball game, not the only sporting attraction, is the one for the Edmonton delegation, as the athletes start this afternoon.

Fixed Handicap Doubles at Patricia Provided a contest

The Match Between A. E. Nash and Mrs. Bear of Edmonton Club, and O. J. Rowe and Miss Embree of Patricia Square, Was Stopped by Darkness With Result Still in Doubt—Saturday's Games in First and Second Rounds of the Tournament Were Splendidly Contested.

Saturday saw the best tennis yet displayed in the Patricia Square tournament. The struggle for the silver cup was the defeat of Mr. O. J. Rowe by Mrs. Bear of the Patricia Square. Mrs. Bear was the first set of the match, and she was strong in the second set and by a beautiful display of accurate placing coupled with steadiness, such as is seldom seen, she won the match. The match was a hard one, and the players were both in excellent condition. The match was a hard one, and the players were both in excellent condition.
